November 2008

Hello,

..... from the « collège Isidore Pelage », a junior high school in Sainte-Anne (Martinique), sent you STANLEY, either directly or via a person of your acquaintance.

This is part of an educational project carried on by his/her English teacher Mrs J. Ligner, and aimed at making him/her discover new countries, new cultures through Stanley's journey within the framework of the English class.

This idea comes from the story written by Jeff Brown : "Flat Stanley"

To sum up the story :

Stanley is a young boy who leads a nice, ordinary life ! Then, one day, an odd thing occurs to him : a bulletin board falls on him while he is sleeping. He is not hurt but he is flattened and will remain flat his whole life. His parents don't mind. This turns out to be very interesting : for instance, he can be put in an envelope and be mailed in order to discover the world at very little expense.

In order to carry the project through, we need your help. You will only have to send a postcard, a picture with Stanley or some news from Stanley to the pupils mentioned on this letter and to send Stanley accompanied with this letter to someone else. The document will be exploited in English with the whole class during the English lesson.

It would be ideal if Stanley could travel all around the world and meet as many different people as possible, but he can also stay in the West Indies.

Each pupil will keep a logbook in which he will write the evolution of his/her Stanley's journey. Therefore, we ask you not to keep Stanley too long (10 days at most) and to send him to someone who will accept to play the game so that each pupil can get his/her Stanley back at the end of the project. We ask the person being in possession of Stanley on February 22nd, 2009, to send him back to the pupil named above to the following address :

Collège Isidore Pelage, 14 Avenue Nelson Mandela, 97227 Sainte-Anne

This will not cost you much but your participation is worth a lot and on behalf of all the pupils, I would like to thank you for your collaboration.

Best regards,

J. Ligner
